CHICE ACTION SUMMARY		e Action Summary

Art Unit: 1742

DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on April 8, 2002 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of USP 6004507 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

- 2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

 A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --
 - (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 3. Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by JP 63274740, JP 09049051, JP 11293410, or JP 08325673 (see their abstracts).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:
 - 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 - 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 - 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 - 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 1742

- 5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
- 6. Claims 2-27, 29, and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over JP 09049051.
- 7. Claims 2, 4-7, 10-27, 29, and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over JP 08325673.
- 8. Claims 2-4, 6-13, 16-27, 29, and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over JP 63274740.
- 9. Claims 2-9, 14-27, 29, and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over JP 11293410.
- 10. The cited reference(s) disclose(s) the features including the claimed component of equipment and its compositions. The features relied upon described above can be found in the reference(s) at: their abstracts. The difference between the reference(s) and the claims are as follows: The cited references do not disclose the recited intended use. But, the claimed intended use of the claimed alloy does not lend patentability to the alloy. A mere statement of a new use for an otherwise old or obvious composition cannot render a claim to the composition patentable. See In re Lemin, 51 CCPA 942, 326 F.2d 437, 140 USPQ 273 (1964), Kropa v. Robie, and Mahlman, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951). Moreover, an intended use clause found in the preamble of an apparatus/product claim is not afforded the effect of a distinguishing limitation unless the body of the claim sets forth structure which refers back to, is defined by, or otherwise draws life and breath from the preamble. In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and Kropa V. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951).

- 11. With respect to the claim 29 that the component such as pumping member, post, or shaft reads on products of cited references.
- 12. The limitation in claim 34 is material property which would have been inherently possessed by the materials of cited references.

Response to Arguments

- 13. Applicant's arguments filed February 13, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
- 14. In view of applicants' instant remarks that claims 5 and 14-15 rejected by JP 63274740, claims 10-12 rejected by JP 11293410, and claims 3 and 8-9 rejected by JP 08325673 have been withdrawn.
- 15. Applicants argue that the cited references do not disclose the claimed intended use of the component. But, the claimed intended use of the claimed alloy does not lend patentability to the alloy. A mere statement of a new use for an otherwise old or obvious composition cannot render a claim to the composition patentable. See In re Lemin, 51 CCPA 942, 326 F.2d 437, 140 USPQ 273 (1964), Kropa v. Robie, and Mahlman, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951). Moreover, an intended use clause found in the preamble of an apparatus/product claim is not afforded the effect of a distinguishing limitation unless the body of the claim sets forth structure which refers back to, is defined by, or otherwise draws life and breath from the preamble. In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and Kropa V. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951).

- 16. Applicants' argument in paragraph bridging pages 3 and 4 of the instant remarks is noted. But, the different intended use does not make the old product novel.
- 17. Applicants' argument in page 4, first full paragraph of the remarks is noted. But, applicants fail to point out what claimed limitation has not been met by the cited references.
- 18. Applicants argue that JP 63274740 fails to disclose B as set forth in claim 4 (0.15-0.5 wt.%), and P as set forth in claim 7 (less than about 0.005 wt.%). But, the abstract of said reference discloses 0.5-2.5 wt.% B. The claimed 0.5 wt.% B is anticipated by cited reference. The abstract of said reference discloses P less or equal to 0.05 wt.% P which overlaps the claimed less than 0.005 wt.% P.

- 19. Applicants argue that JP 08325673 fails to teach the S in claim 28, P in claim 28, less than about 1 wt.% Si in claim 10, 1.5-3 wt.% V in claim 16, 2-4 wt.% Nb in claim 18, and less than about 1.5 wt.% Ta in claim 22. But, said reference in abstract discloses 3-8 wt.% V and 0.1-2 wt.% Nb which are anticipated the claimed 3 wt.% V and 2 wt.% Nb in said claims. With respect to the claimed contents of elements S, P, Si, and Ta which include zero. Thus, cited reference does not require to recite said elements.
- 20. Applicants argue that JP 11293410 fails to teach the less than about 0.005 wt.% S in claim 6, less than about 0.005 wt.% P in claim 7, 2-4 wt.% Nb in claim 18, 3-5 wt.% Co in claim 20, and less than about 1.5 wt.% Ta in claim 22. The S, P, and Ta contents in claims 6, 7, and 22 respectively read on zero which suggests said elements could be eliminated from claims. JP 11293410 in abstract discloses 0.03-2 wt.% Nb and less or equal 3 wt.% Co which are anticipated the claimed 2 wt.% Nb and 3 wt.% Co.

Conclusion

21. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Applicant is reminded that when amendment and/or revision is required, applicant should therefore specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP § 2163.06 (a) and 37 C.F.R. § 1.119.
